leadership to inspire

I believe Kingston can be extraordinary:

A city where Kingstonians collaborate with each other and with their elected representatives to build a hub of economic, environmental and social vitality.

A city where entrepreneurship spurs business; where industry honours history; where new infrastructure lessens ecological impact; and where our waterfront meets everyday life.

This is my vision for our city. A city I want to lead. A city for us to build together.

Some questions to answer together:

- How can we double Kingston's job creation and retention rates and at the same time improve employee satisfaction levels?
- How can housing, transportation, health and food policies include and productively provide for those in need in our community?
- What kind of evidence-based choices do we need to make as we strive to be Canada's most sustainable city?
- How can we help every child and every senior thrive in Kingston for our collective well-being, now and in the future?
- How can we reduce municipal taxes, address deferred maintenance debt and enhance programming for all residents?
